

Valentina Gasparo

Valentina Gasparo is Chief Risk Officer in ING Italy since June 2023 with a career of 15 years in risk departments. She joined ING in September 2016 as Head of Credit Risk Retail and then added also the role of Head of Risk Modelling. In her current role she covers all financial and non-financial risks, including Compliance and AML.

Previously, Valentina started in Deutsche Bank in 2008 with the graduate program. She had the possibility to cover different roles in the credit risk areas from MidCap Credit Analyst to Portfolio Management as Head of Credit Strategy and Reporting. Her experience was enriched by some abroad experiences, among others in Germany as executive assistant to the Global Head of Credit Risk and Germany CRO.

She holds a degree in Law and Business Administration at Luigi Bocconi University in Milan, attending several semesters abroad in Rotterdam (Erasmus Universiteit of Rotterdam) and Sydney (University of New South Wales). She has also held an internship in Shanghai.

Proud mum of two little boys, sports lover and with competitive attitude thanks to many years of international ski competitions.