

Gerardo Di Filippo

Gerardo Di Filippo has over 20 years of international experience in the insurance industry, with strong skills in risk management, digital transformation, process optimization, and sustainability risk strategy.

Currently, he holds the position of Head of Group Risk Management Processes & Operations at Assicurazioni Generali in Milan. In this role, he is responsible for defining and executing processes and procedures for capital calculation, including validation activities, and steering the development of software applications to support risk management processes, and manages the budget.

He coordinate relationship with the Italian Regulator and EIOPA for risk management matters, coordinates risk activities towards the Risk and Control Committee and the Board of Directors, and acts as deputy GCRO in institutional events.

Moreover within his role he is also leading the climate risk and geopolitical risk assessment activities.