

Mario Quagliariello

Mario Quagliariello is the Director of Supervisory Strategy and Risk at the European Central Bank – Banking Supervision, in charge of the SSM strategic planning, risk assessment and the second line of defence function.

Before joining the ECB, he spent ten years at the European Banking Authority, lately as Director of the Economic Analysis and Statistics Department. Mario previously served as a Senior Economist at Banca d'Italia, the Italian central bank.

He holds a BA in economics with honours from the University "La Sapienza" in Rome and a Ph.D. in economics from the University of York.